SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS. Interesting Papers Read and Discussed

at Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., June 21.-The international Sunday school convention continued its sessions today. Papers were read and discussed. The report of the general secretary showed that great success had been attained since the last meeting.

One hundred and forty-eight men and women were in the employ of the state and provincial associations. Fifty-eight states and provinces were now organized.

Justice McLaren of Toronto was unanimously elected president. Five mass meetings of Sunday school children were held at different centers this afternoon A primary and junior conference was conducted by Mrs. J. W. Barnes of Newark, N. J. Prof. A. B. Van Ormer of Gettysburg, Pa., spoke on the age of spiritual awakening. About 100 American delegates assembled in Knox Church to discuss missionary work among the Chinese on this continent. Mrs. Zillah Foster Stevens was in charge of the conference on the temperance propaganda. Mrs. Wilbur Crafts of Washington, D. C., spoke on temperance. Mrs. Bryner of Philadelphia pleaded for the teaching of temperance to the young.

Dr. Schauffler of New York presided over two open parliaments. Every state in the represented day school superintendent. The superintendents' conference, which was led by Marion Laurence of Toledo, general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, discussed fifty questions suggested by four hundred leading superintendents. The topic, "Grading a Sunday School," was discussed at length. Finally gess of Chicago was best. It provides advancement by age and attainment. HAIR MAKES THE HAT FIT

it was suggested that the plan of Prof. Bur-

Added Importance Given to the Coiffure by This Season's Millinery.

From the New York Sun. There never was a time when the hair was more important to a woman's dress than it is today. Her hat is incomplete without it.

The little bits of chip that are turned up on one side and down on the other and then up and down all over again in front would perch like saucers on the heads of which is this summer designed to fill out any gaps that there may be in the contour of the head.

"I'm certain it will be becoming to you." a saleswoman said the other day to a customer, 'if you'll only let me arrange the hair as it should be worn with these hats. It is not too small, and I will show you how well it looks."

Then she pulled out the hair on one side of the head until it made a firm foundation for that side of the hat, which had looked as if it were resting in midair with no support. On the other side she pulled out an other wisp, and that made the hat look symmetrical and very becoming.

Before that time it seemed several sizes too small. After the hair had been made to fit the hat it was charming.

Burial of Armenian Suicide.

All that were mortal of the remains of Aprimiane Arshak, the Armenian who committed suicide by swallowing carbolic acid while in a Greek restaurant on John Marshall place Friday afternoon, as stated exclusively in Friday's Star, were laid at rest in Woodlawn cemetery yesterday afternoon. His body was removed from the Emergency Hospital to Mitchell's undertakin establishment, on 11th street southeast, from where the funeral took place. There was no minister in attendance to say a kind word for the young man who had ended his life after having lived in the insane asylum. Four young men were present and acted as pallbearers. They accompanied the remains to the grave and saw that the body was properly interred.

Police Investigating Death. The death of Emma Pratt, colored, is peing investigated by the police. It occurred at Garfield Hospital about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the police were immediately notified that their services were wanted. Emma, who was eighteen years old, and lived at 1811 Oregon avenue northwest, admitted to the doctors at the hos-pital that an operation had been performed upon her by a colored woman. Shortly after she died Detectives McNamee and O'Brien arrested a colored man named James Young and locked him up to be held pending a further investigation of the case. They are now looking for the woman who is alleged to have performed the operation.

Sylvan Players Next Week.

The Sylvan Players, whose outdoor presentations of "The Twelfth Night," "As You Like It" and other Shakespeare masterpieces have pleased Washington audiences for the past two weeks, will begin their third and last week tomorrow evening. Miss Cortelyou and Mr. Herbert have many friends and admirers in this city. and the reception awarded their efforts has been enthusiastic. This is particularly true of the "Merchant of Venice," in which Mr. Herbert played the character of Shylock at fifty-four consecutive performances in New York.

With the promise of the weather man that next week will be fair and cool the forest auditorium at Woodley road and Connecticut avenue should be well filled both afternoon and evening.

"Twelfth Night" will be given Monday evening and Saturday matinee. "As You Like It" is on the program for Tuesday

BANK CLERKS' OUTING

FINANCIERS SPEND DAY AT MAR-SHALL HALL.

The Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks gave its third outing yesterday afternoon. Two boats, each carrying a large crowd, left the 7th street wharf at 3:30 and 6:30 o'clock respectively. Had the weather been more agreeable it is regarded as probable that a much larger crowd would have been in attendance, this being one of the most popular excursions of the season. The trip was made to Marshall Hall, where dancing was a principal amusement. Those who went down on the boat tripped to tuneful measures throughout the journeys to and from the resort, and from the beginning, two-step "My San Domingo Maid" to the ending waltz, "Au Revoir," the boats were scenes of galety.

It had been arranged to have two teams, composed exclusively of bank clerks, to play a match game of basket ball upon the arrival of the 3:30 boat, but owing to the wet condition of the grounds the game was postponed until some date in the near future, which will be set shortly by those in charge.

TO BE HELD IN CHECK. Liberty of Russia's New National Assembly Will Be Restricted. ST. PETERSBURG, June 25. - Russia's coming national assembly, if forecasts that are appearing in newspapers are correct will be controlled by parliamentary machinery and procedure, profoundly intricate and unworkable from the standpoint of western countries. Everywhere checks will be introduced upon the power of the gosudarstvennaia douma, or popular elected lower house of the legislative assembly, and arbitrary methods will be evolved for overriding, or, rather, sweeping aside, its objections when they become troublesome or too insistent.

For instance, if measures fail to reach the council of the empire of the upper house within a certain time consent of the lower house will be assumed to have been given. Bills introduced must be supported by thirty members, and then go to the minis-ter whose department is affected, who exter whose department is affected, who exercises a sort of preliminary veto power, which can be broken down only by a vote of two-thirds of both houses and with the approval of the emperor. Even then it will have the effect only to compel the minister to introduce a project of law to meet the views of the assembly within a

The lower house has not the power to initiate revenue legislation. The budget is to be introduced by the minister of finance annually on November 11, and must go through committee in ten days and be passed by December 5. Items provided for in existing laws or relating to the estab-lished budget of the army and navy cannot be stricken out, and the machinery prac-tically insures acceptance of the budget by providing for a motion for striking out an item to follow the same procedure as new legislation. The council of the empire nominated by the emperor exercises throughout a pre-ponderating influence or control over the elected lower house. The president of each house is clothed with power not only to keep debate within bounds, but to suspend sittings. Ministers are to be interpellated in camera, and only such portions of pro-ceedings in executive sessions may be published as the president approves. Press representatives are to be admitted to open sessions, but their accounts are censurable. Besides, there will be an official publication like the Congressional Record at Washington.

The mode of elections is yet unsettled. Apparently there are two propositions, one for class representation and the other along the general suffrage line. This question is yet under consideration.

DEATH OF FRANCIS ENDRES. Prominent Dairyman Succumbs to

most prominent dairymen in the District, occurred last night about 11 o'clock at his home on Murdock Mill road, Tenleytown, after a lingering illness. Mr. Endres had been practically an invalid since last April, when he was stricken with apoplexy. He partially recovered, but had been subject to frequent attacks since then, and fell a victim to the fatal malady last night, as stated. Arrangements for the funeral will probably b: completed today. Mr. Endres was about sixty-five years of age, and had for many years been a resident of the District of Columbia. He was regarded as a public-spirited citizen, having taken interest in all that went for the development of the city. He had been a contributor to many charitable works. Personally he was regarded as a conscientious and energetic business man, and from a small beginning built up a paying enter prise, his courteous dealings with his fel-low man having earned the respect and confidence of the community in which he had lived for a quarter of a century. His wife, three sons and two daughters survive

CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD.

Indictments by Special Grand Jury in

ARDMORE, I. T., June 24 .-- A special ARDMORE, I. T., June 24.—A special tion in the county. It indicates that there grand jury which has been investigating is not enough spirit in the county to enalleged frauds in Chickasaw warrants tonight filed four separate indictments for conspiracy as follows: Conspiracy to defraud the Chickasaw nation; conspiracy to present false claims against the United States; conspiracy to defraud the Commercial National Bank of Kansas City, Kan.; conspiracy to defraud the First National Bank of Joplin, For conspiracy to defraud the Chickasaw nation, Gov. D. H. Johnston, former Gov. Palmer S. Moseley, George S. Mans-field, J. F. McMurray and Melvin Cornish are made joint defendants. For con-spiracy to present false claims against the United States the defendants are W. T. Ward, United States Marshal B. H. Colpert and Kirby Purdom. For conspiracy to defraud the Commer cial National Bank, B. T. Colbert, W.

Ward, W. A. Teel, S. M. White and E. B. For conspiracy to defraud the Joplin Bank, B. T. Colbert, Kirby Purdom and W. T.

Ward. In all four indictments the parties charged therein are indicted jointly.

S. M. White and E. B. Hinshaw, two of the defendants, are prominently connected with Chickasaw nation schools. Hinshaw is at present superintendent of Bloomfield Seminary, a school for Chicka-saw young women at Bloomfield, and White is superintendent of Harley Institute at Tishomingo. Teel, Hinshaw and White were directors of the defunct bank of the Chickasaw nation, through which institution these illegal deals are alleged to have been carried on.

Held for a Hearing.

Rebecca Abraham, a heavy-weight colored woman, occupied a cell at the second precinct police station last night because her brother-in-law, Ernest Patton, alleged that she had robbed him of $15.

"He knows I didn't get no $15 of his money," the woman said, when placed under arrest. "I took $8 from him to keep for him, and not another cent." Ernest was not satisfied to compromise upon payment of $8, and insisted that the question at issue should be settled in court. He was accommodated and his sister-in-law was held for a hearing.

Attempt to Loot a Store. Mrs. Smith Gorges, who conducts a notion and cigar store at 2712 P street, Georgetown, was visited yesterday afternoon by three young colored men, who tried to loot the place of most of its valuables. According to the story told to the police, to whom Mrs. Gorges applied for assistance, the visitors were between twenty and twentyfive years old, and entered the store demanding that they be shown some cigars. At a moment when she was not looking they grabbed several boxes of choice cigars, and were going to take possession of other booty when Mrs. Gorges' cries for help frightened them away. culprits were furnished the seventh pre cinct police, but at a late hour last night they had not been apprehended.

Charged With Vagrancy.

Rebecca Poindexter, colored, was locked up at the Georgetown police station last night upon a charge of vagrancy. It is alleged that she has been patronizing drinking establishments about Georgetown and spending the money that she should have spent for food. The woman had been in similar trouble before, and took her arrest good naturedly. She will be in the proces-sion in Judge Kimball's court.

Placed in House of Detention. A young colored woman named Laura Payne was arrested last night by the police of the third precinct and held to answer a charge of theft. It is alleged that she stole $1 from another colored woman named Eli Brooks and John Baylor, colored, the Mary Hunt at the home of the latter in Queen's alley. Laura said she and another celored girl took the money while she was assisting Mary to iron some clothing. As it was the first time Laura had been arrestpect." Gen. R. W. Green, Little Rock, Ark.. Association Meets at Chesapeake Junction-Report Made of an Unpunished Crime.

That Prince George county, Md., is a poorly policed community and that it has attained such a reputation abroad was maintained by those who served as spokesmen at the special meeting of the Prince George County-Eastern District of Columbia Citizens' Association, which was held in its new hall at Chesapeake Junction last evening. The meeting was without special interest until a report of an unpunished crime in the county was made by one of the most prominent citizens.

When the flames, started by that recital, will be quenched is indefinite, but can safely be set far in the future.

After routine business had been attended to. Vice President Richard L. Brown, who was in the chair, called for reports on the pool room fight. Mr. A. W. Mallery stated the conditions. Then John Gregory rose to "Mr. Chairman," he began, "I think I should call the attention of the members of this association to another outrage which has been perpetrated in the county. At these words all present turned toward the speaker and gave him close attention. Mr. Gregory explained that he had a tenant living on his place, near Chesapeake Junction. One week ago last Friday, he said. Mrs. Stewart, wife of his tenant, was alone in the house at the close of the day, when a man approached and asked if her husband, Louis Stewart, was at home. When told that he was not, the caller stated that he would come in and wait forl him. This he was forbidden to do by the wife, whereupon the caller took the matter into his own hands by attacking the wo-man. She resisted to the limit of her frail strength, but was nearly overpowered. Her husband, who was returning home, heard ner screams. He hurried to the house and upon his approach the caller beat a hasty retreat.

Authorities Inactive. "What have the authorities done in the case?" some one demanded to know. "Well, Mrs. Stewart complained of the matter to Magistrate Behrens," was the re sponse, "and he promptly issued a warrant for the alleged assailant, who was identified by the woman. That warrant has never been served."

"Has the sheriff ever investigated the case?" was asked. "No; the sheriff has not been near my place. A constable, to whom the warrant was given by Judge Behrens, visited the scene once, I believe. "The sheriff of the county was not available, and so I had to turn over the warrant to a constable," explained Mr. Beh-

The discussion waxed warm at this point, and it all was to the point that police officers of the county were not doing their full At the close a motion was carried that the association appoint a committee of three to wait on the sheriff, inform him of the serious crime committed, and ask him if he intends to act in the matter, Messrs. John Gregory, E. Behrens and R. L. Brown were appointed as members of that committee. 'This is a sad commentary on conditions in Prince George county," said F. S. Car-mody. "Here a serious crime has been committed within 300 yards of another residence. It occurred over a week ago, and although warrants have been sworn out the county officials have apparently done nothing. Why don't they do something Why don't they do something? Why don't they do something in the pool room case? Why don't they look after these cases?" nothing. "This brings me to an important fact The insurance rates in Prince George county are much higher than in the adjoining ounty of Montgomery, and the alleged reason is the lawlessness and lack of protecforce law. How long are these things to continue? They will continue until you gentlemen insist on protection to yourself, your property, your wife and your family."

A. W. Mallery followed with a denunciation of the lax methods of enforcing justice, and calling upon the citizens to ognize their responsibilities in the matter. He made the point that this was another example, following that of the pool room, where the proper county authorities had failed to do their duty. Many Signatures Obtained.

It was reported to the meeting by both Mr. Mallery and Mr. Carmody that the petitions asking that the grand jury be reconvened to consider the pool room cases were being generally signed. An independent petition was circulated in Glendale and signed by a large number. In Hyattsville and Laurel also the petitions and met approval.

It is expected, according to information that they will be collected Monday, and that Tuesday a delegation will take the petitions before Judge Merrick, at Upper Marlboro, when he will be asked to grant the request of the petitioners.

Last night's meeting was held in the building owned by the association. For some time the members have been preparing for the incorporation of the association That has now been accomplished; and last night over $250 of stock certificates were issued to members in amounts as de sired. The cost of the lot and building, besides the expense of incorporation, have been paid, and the future assets of stock sales will be used for improvements. It is expected that the capital stock will amount to $1,000. The building occupies a prominent position in Chesapeake Junction. It will be used as a meeting place of the association. TRIBUTE TO THE DEAD

GREEK COLONY TO HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES.

The Greek colony in Washington will today commemorate the death of Premier Theodore P. Delyannis by a ceremony at the Greek Church, corner 7th street and Louisiana avenue. Solemn high mass will be celebrated from 9 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock. At 11:30 o'clock the members of the church and of the colony generally throughout the city will gather to pay homage to the memory of the deceased statesman, who was assassinated twelve days ago. Orations will be delivered by some of the more prominent Grecians, who, in words of eloquence, will laud the character of their compatriot. The central figure in the ceremony will be the pastor of the church. Rev. Father Nathane Sideris, who will be assisted by prominent members of the Greek Benevolent and Edu-

Story of the Assassination. Theodore P. Delyannis, the popular premier of Greece, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a professional gambler named chamber of deputies at 5 p.m. June 13. The premier died within three hours. The assassin, who was immediately ar-rested, said he committed the deed in revenge for the stringent measures taker Premier Delyannis against the gambling houses, all of which recently were closed The premier arrived at the entrance of the chamber in a carriage. Gherakaris a proached, saluted the premier, and opened the carriage door. The premier was in the act of thanking Gherakaris for his courtesy. when the gambler plunged a long dagge into M. Delyannis' abdomen, inflicting frightful wound. The murderer was im mediately overpowered by the attendants.

Results Fatally. Medical assistance was quickly secured and the wounded statesman was taken to a Red Cross station, where an operation was performed in an effort to stop the internal hemorrhage. This was unsuccessful, and Premier Delyannis diéd at 7:30 o'clock. The news spread rapidly, and it would be impossible to describe the popular evidences of sorrow or the anger of the crowd, who attempted to lynch the assassin.

LAX METHODS CHARGED who rushed their prisoner from the building to prison.

It is estimated that 20,000 persons fol-lowed the body of the premier from the Red Cross station to his late residence. Members of the cabinet and of the chamber of deputies were among the crowd, many of them weeping. The cabinet met the same evening at the residence of the president of the chamber, and it was decided that the body should lie in state in the chamber before interment.

in state in the chamber before interment.

King George, who was at Tatol, was informed of the assassination.

Investigation by the police shows that Gherakaris was recently liberated from prison, having been sentenced to eighteen years for the murder of his wife.

The funeral of M. Delyannis was a national one and took place the following Friday.
